

Press Release

Paris/London/Vienna, January the 11th 2012

ACI International is pleased to announce the expansion of ACI FX committee with representation of the corporate sector and the ASIAN region.

We are pleased to announce Brent Callinicos, VP & Treasurer, Google, Wolfgang Koester CEO FireApps and Sven Carlsson Head of Markets at Ericsson Treasury Services AB will join the ACIFXC committee and they represent the corporate sector. Clifford Cheah, Deutsche Bank's head of global finance and foreign exchange for Asia in Singapore has also joined and will represent the ASIAN region.

Stephane Malrait ACIFXC Chair adds "We are proud to gather such a talented group of professionals together representing the geographical and sectional interests of the market. These additions to the ACIFXC will reinforce our mission statement to represent the entire professional FX Market" The committee will next meet in London on Tuesday the 2nd of February ahead of the ACI UK Square Mile debate entitled "My flows, your rules; the buy side bites back" being held the same evening.

ACIFXC MISSION STATEMENT

- To inclusively represent the entire professional FX Market, including in the membership of ACI all Professional Market Participants (PMP's), who, based on the principle of personal integrity, will individually uphold the values of the Model Code.
- The committee to be focused on and comprised of FX Experts who will support both the Executive Board and Regional ACI's and ensure that the views of the professional FX community are heard at the highest levels, in co-operation with other associations that have an FX voice when applicable.
- The ACIFXC to work in concert with regulators and other FXC's to promote a common global, orderly and transparent FX market and to lobby on regulatory issues as required.
- To recommend best practices and changes to the Model Code as and when necessary from a professional FX market perspective.
- The ACIFXC will fully represent current and future trading styles and execution choices available to the FX markets professional participants and will actively facilitate the development of Regional Foreign Exchange Markets and their integration into the global marketplace.
